Effective immediately an Office of Traffic Management is hereby established in the Office of the Secretary with Mr. Elmer E. Forbes, Traffic Manager, in charge.

The Traffic Manager will be responsible to the Secretary for the efficient and economic conduct of the traffic activities of the Department and to that end he may call upon the bureaus, divisions, and offices of the Department for such information as may be necessary to the proper performance of his duties. He will keep in touch with all traffic activities and give such advice to the bureaus and offices as may be necessary to insure the prompt and efficient movement of traffic and the proper disposition of all matters connected therewith. He is authorized to conduct such correspondence with the carriers, the general public, and the bureaus of the Department as may be necessary, and in that connection, will maintain appropriate files and records.

He will keep in close touch with traffic conditions in the Government service generally, and will recommend to the Secretary such changes in the Department's regulations and such issue of bulletins and circulars pertaining to transportation matters as he may deem advisable.

He will advise shipping and receiving clerks of the proper nomenclature to be used in billing shipments and of the methods of packing and loading which will insure the application of proper classifications. He will assist in the preparation of notations on bills-of-lading adequate to protect the interest of the Government in cases of loss, damage, or special services. He will also assist in expediting emergency shipments, in institution of tracers in cases of unusual delay or non-delivery, in the securing of equipment where necessary, and in the preparing of car orders so as to prevent loss to the Department through excess minimum weight.

He will arrange for the disposition of unclaimed shipments, give advice as to the proper loading of car-load shipments, and, upon bureau request, investigate claims for loss, damage, or reparation, secure refunds on unused or partially used tickets and similar collections, and arrange for proper bureau credits. Upon bureau request he will also prepare itineraries, give special advice on train service, routes,

He will have custody of the general supply of bills-of-lading and transportation requests, and will issue these forms in bulk to the bureaus upon proper request therefor:

He shall have access to memorandum copies of bills-of-ladings issued by the bureaus of the Department and to all other bureau records of transportation activities. Upon the direction of the head of the Department, or upon bureau request, he will investigate irregularities pertaining to traffic with a view to the correction of such errors in practice as may be found to exist.

He will act as intermediary between the bureaus of the Department and the Federal Traffic Board, and, upon bureau request, between the bureaus and the carriers or agencies of the carriers, such as the various classification or passenger committees, demurrage bureaus, and the like.

He will make to the Secretary recommendations for the adoption of such procedure and the maintenance of such records as may be necessary to prevent duplicate payments.

Please return to the

Dear Mr. Bain:

I have just received your Memorandum of March 31 ultimo, with reference to the appointment of a committee to consider reclassification matters in the Department.

In my judgment the plan proposed is not only practicable but very desirable. The proposed committee should be authorized to act in liaison between the Department and the Personnel Classification Board, to it should be referred for action all matters pertaining to classification, and it should be instructed and empowered to take such action as may be necessary to insure uniformity in the classification of comparable positions in the various bureaus of the Department. In selecting the committee I believe the following considerations should govern:

- (1) The need for the centralization of all classification matters under one responsible control.
- (2) Direction of the committee by one of the principal officials of the Department.
- (3) Selection of the committeemen on the basis of their knowledge of personnel and classification.

I favor the appointment of a committee of not less than three nor more than five members, one of these to be the Director of Scientific Work as Chairman. Suggestions for the full committee are as follows:

Dr. E. D. Ball, Director of Scientific Work, Chairman.
Mr. W. A. Jump, Secretary's Office.
Col. W. B. Greeley, Forest Service.
Dr. H. A. Edson, Bureau of Plant Industry
Dr. W. W. Skinner, Bureau of Chemistry.

I would further suggest the desirability of appointing a Vice-Chairman to act in the absence of the Chairman, and to relieve him of cumbersome details of the work.

Very truly yours,

It should be authorized to select all members who are to be classified, and it should be authorized and empowered to select such action as may be necessary to bring the matter to the attention of comparable positions in the various bureaus of the Department. Memorandum for Mr. H. M. Bain,
Administrative Assistant, Office of The Secretary.

Dear Mr. Bain:

I believe the suggestion made in your memorandum of March 31, for the appointment of a Departmental committee to consider uniformity in reclassification, is a most excellent one. Because of the experience which the members of the committee on personnel already in existence have had, I should think it could properly form the nucleus for a larger committee.

The present committee, composed of Dr. Stockberger, Mr. Gladmon and myself, is, as you will see, rather representative of the technical staff of the Department. I believe the addition to this committee of two persons to represent the clerical and administrative personnel of the Department would be advisable. The committee should be a small one. I think a committee of five is entirely sufficient.

We have discussed this question here in the Bureau and are of the opinion that Mr. Allanson of the Bureau of Plant Industry and Mr. Krueger of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics are exceptionally well qualified to serve on such a committee. I do not know either of these gentlemen personally but by reputation. I understand that they have given considerable thought to the matter of classification within their bureaus.

Respectfully,

W. W. Skinner,

Dear Mr. Skinner:

I believe the suggestion made in your memorandum of March 31, for the appointment of a Departmental committee to consider entirely in technical matters, is a most excellent one. Because of the experience which the members of the committee on personnel already in existence have had, I should think it could properly form the nucleus for a larger committee.

The present committee, composed of Mr. Goodhue, Mr. Gifford and myself, as you will see, rather represents the technical staff of the Department. I believe the addition to this committee of two persons to represent the clerical and administrative personnel of the Department would be advisable. The committee should be a small one. I think a committee of five is entirely sufficient.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

OFFICE OF CHIEF CLERK

WASHINGTON, D. C.

April 9, 1923.

Dear Mr. Bain:

For the District of Columbia the Classification Act of 1923 prescribes (Section 4):

SEC. 4. That after consultation with the board, and in accordance with a uniform procedure prescribed by it, the head of each department shall allocate all positions in his department in the District of Columbia to their appropriate grades in the compensation schedules.

For the field service it prescribes (Section 5):

The board shall make a survey of the field services and shall report to Congress at its first regular session following the passage of this Act schedules of position, grades, and salaries for such services, which shall follow the principles and rules of the compensation schedules herein contained in so far as these are applicable to the field services. This report shall include a list prepared by the head of each department, after consultation with the board and in accordance with a uniform procedure prescribed by it, allocating all field positions in his department to their approximate grades in said schedules and fixing the proposed rate of compensation of each employee thereunder in accordance with the rules prescribed in section 6 herein.

Thus in both cases the head of the Department is required to make an allocation in accordance with a uniform procedure to be prescribed by the Personnel Classification Board. He can do it, of course, only through bureau channels. With all branches allocating independently of each other there is strong probability of a lack of uniformity in allocating the same or similar jobs. Hence the need, as I see it, for a department committee to standardize allocations as far as practicable. We do not know yet what procedure will be laid down for us to follow, nor how closely the Board will supervise us. If, as has been guessed, it is their plan to send agents around to work with bureau officers, we may not need a committee. But in any event it will be well to be prepared to appoint a committee if it develops that a committee is necessary. A committee would have been useful in handling the recent request of the Board for criticism of their questionnaire - in fact it ultimately was handled by an informal committee.

I can continue to act, of course, as the mere agency for receipt and distribution of material sent down by the Board. I should not act alone on any matter really affecting allocation; a strong committee should be appointed or at least selected ready for appointment. As allocation falls into two natural divisions, the committee should be representative of both divisions, which are

- (1) Professional and scientific, including the sub-professional service.
- (2) Clerical, administrative, and fiscal service, with the custodial service.

A committee of five or seven should be selected. The following names suggest themselves to me:

I believe it would be well to have a brief analysis of the Agricultural Credits Act (bottom of page 11). B.A.E. can furnish. B.A.E. might also be asked to look over the portions with which they are especially concerned, for any suggestions they may care to make.

I think it would be desirable to add to this memorandum the following legislation:

~~H.R. 2347, relief of entrymen.~~

~~H.J.Res. 422, entry free of certain domestic animals~~

~~S. 3295, collection of foreign statistics.~~

~~S. 4187, extension of time for payment of charges on reclamation projects.~~

~~S. 3702, exchange of lands within Lincoln National Forest.~~

~~Possibly also S.J.Res. 282, extending time for report of Dept. reorganization committee.~~

Suggest that memo. be returned to Mr. Zappone for consideration of these recommendations.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. BAIN.

Dear Mr. Bain:

Returned herewith is the memorandum prepared in this office covering acts and parts of acts pertaining directly or indirectly to the work of this Department. In accordance with the suggestion of Mr. Bradley I have had the Bureau of Agricultural Economics pass upon the portions of this memorandum with which they are especially concerned, and with a slight addition to the paragraph regarding the Cotton Standards Act they were found to be all right.

The official record of March 14, contained a brief synopsis of the Agricultural Credits Act which I think might very well be reproduced in this memorandum. The record containing this synopsis was issued about the time the memorandum was being prepared and it was my opinion that it ~~should~~ ^{would} be unnecessary to go into any detail in this memorandum regarding the Agricultural Credits Act. OK

The additional acts and resolutions which Mr. Bradley suggested be included are now provided for with the exception of S. 3702, authorizing the exchange of lands within the Lincoln National Forest. This act was already included in the memorandum on page 8. JK

I think the memorandum is now in shape for printing.

ACT TO AMEND SECTIONS 2, 5, 11, 12, 15, 19, 29, and 30 OF THE UNITED STATES WAREHOUSE ACT, APPROVED AUGUST 11, 1916, APPROVED FEBRUARY 23, 1923 (Public No. 436).

This act amends the United States Warehouse Act of August 11, 1916, in the following respects:

~~228~~
Removes the limitation imposed by Section 2 with regard to products which can be stored in a licensed warehouse. Heretofore warehouses could be licensed only for the storage of cotton, wool, tobacco, and grain. Under the amendment the Secretary may license warehouses for the storage of such agricultural products as he may deem proper.

Removes the one year limitation on a license heretofore imposed by Section 5. Under the amendment the life of a license may be indefinite instead of for only one year.

While the amendment to section 6 inserts the words "and may in the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture include the requirements of fire insurance", ~~as~~ the second sentence of the section, it does not change the effect of the Act as the requirement is discretionary with the Secretary.

The amendment to section 11 provides for the licensing of persons to inspect and sample products. Heretofore persons were licensed only to classify and weigh products stored in licensed warehouses.

Section 15 of the Act is amended by striking out the words "grain, flaxseed or" and "other" at the beginning of the Section. Heretofore there was a tendency to construe the wording of the section to mean that grain under all conditions of storage was a fungible product, when as a matter of fact it may be and is at times non-fungible. The amendment will overcome this difficulty.

Section 18 of the Act is amended by adding the following proviso: "Provided, however, the Secretary of Agriculture may in his discretion require that such receipt have plainly and conspicuously embodied in its written or printed terms a provision that such receipt is not negotiable." This amendment really adds nothing to the Act as it heretofore existed, since it leaves it discretionary with the Secretary of Agriculture to require the issuance of non-negotiable receipts when the grade is omitted therefrom.

The amendment to Section 30 enlarges very materially the scope of offenses punishable under the Act and also increases the severity of the penalties which may be imposed for violations of the Act. It also provides for punishing anyone who shall draw a false sample or who shall wilfully mutilate and falsely represent a sample drawn under the Act, or who shall classify, grade or weigh fraudulently any agricultural products covered by the Act.

Act No. 503.

as the "Agricultural Trade Act of 1923", and the Act of July 17, 1923, as amended, and the Federal of December 24, 1923, as amended.

~~The act~~ The important provisions of this legislation may be briefly summarized as follows:

A Federal intermediate credit bank is to be established in each of the 12 Federal land-bank districts. This bank is to be located in the same city in which the Federal land bank of the district is situated, and the officers and directors of the latter bank will be ex officio officers and directors of the new bank. Each Federal intermediate credit bank will have a capital of not to exceed $5,000,000, which will be subscribed by the Federal Treasury. To provide additional capital collateral trust debentures may be issued in an amount not to exceed ten times the capital and surplus of the bank.

~~To Furnish Discount Facilities.~~

The purpose of these banks is to furnish discount facilities to banks and other financial institutions and to farmers' cooperative-marketing associations for terms of not less than six months nor more than three years. Advances may also be made direct to cooperative associations under specified conditions. The interest on discounts and advances charged by Federal intermediate credit banks may not exceed by more than 1 per cent the interest paid on debentures issued and paper discounted must not involve an interest rate to the borrower more than $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent in excess of the discount rate.

The law also authorizes the organization under Federal charter of national agricultural-credit corporations, which may make loans and discounts for agricultural purposes, including the breeding and fattening of live stock. These corporations will operate under the supervision of the Comptroller of the Currency, and, like the Federal intermediate credit banks, are authorized to issue collateral trust debentures up to ten times their capital and surplus. Such corporations, it is assumed, will be more generally organized in parts of the country where at the present time cattle loan companies are in operation. Existing companies of this kind may reincorporate under the new act.

The act also provides for the establishment of the so-called permanent organization of the 12 Federal land banks. Three out of seven directors are to be elected by the borrowers and stockholders of each land bank and three are to be appointed by the Federal Farm Loan Board. A seventh member, who will be president of the board of directors, will be appointed by the Federal Farm Loan Board from among three persons who have received the highest nomination vote for this position by the stockholders.

The maximum loan to individual borrowers is increased from $10,000 to $25,000 and the purpose for which mortgage loans can be made are broadened to include the repayment of any existing indebtedness.

~~Federal Reserve Act Amended.~~

The Federal reserve act is amended by liberalizing the definition of paper drawn for an "agricultural purpose," making such purpose embrace the grading and processing of agricultural products by cooperative marketing associations. Furthermore, the maximum term of discount on paper drawn for an agricultural purpose is increased from six months to nine months.

To encourage State banks more generally to become members of the Federal reserve system and thus make its facilities more directly available to agricultural districts, the capital requirements of State banks who wish to become members is temporarily reduced. A State bank may under certain conditions be admitted, providing its capital is equal to 60 per cent of that required from national banks similarly situated.

The active life of the War Finance Corporation is extended up to February 29, 1924, and the act finally provides for the appointment of a joint committee of Congress to inquire into the problem of encouraging State banks to avail themselves of membership in the Federal reserve system.

ACT TO AMEND SECTIONS 2, 5, 11, 12, 15, 19, 29, and 30 OF THE UNITED STATES WAREHOUSE ACT, APPROVED AUGUST 11, 1916, APPROVED FEBRUARY 23, 1923 (Public No. 436).

This act amends the United States Warehouse Act of August 11, 1916, in the following respects:

Removes the limitation imposed by Section 2 with regard to products which can be stored in a licensed warehouse. Heretofore warehouses could be licensed only for the storage of cotton, wool, tobacco, and grain. Under the amendment the Secretary may license warehouses for the storage of such agricultural products as he may deem proper.

Removes the one year limitation on a license heretofore imposed by Section 5. Under the amendment the life of a license may be indefinite instead of for only one year.

While the amendment to section 6 inserts the words "and may in the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture include the requirements of fire insurance", as the second sentence of the section, it does not change the effect of the Act as the requirement is discretionary with the Secretary.

The amendment to section 11 provides for the licensing of persons to inspect and sample products. Heretofore persons were licensed only to classify and weigh products stored in licensed warehouses.

Section 15 of the Act is amended by striking out the words "grain, flaxseed or" and "other" at the beginning of the Section. Heretofore there was a tendency to construe the wording of the section to mean that grain under all conditions of storage was a fungible product, when as a matter of fact it may be and is at times non-fungible. The amendment will overcome this difficulty.

Section 18 of the Act is amended by adding the following proviso: "Provided, however, the Secretary of Agriculture may in his discretion require that such receipt have plainly and conspicuously embodied in its written or printed terms a provision that such receipt is not negotiable." This amendment really adds nothing to the Act as it heretofore existed, since it leaves it discretionary with the Secretary of Agriculture to require the issuance of non-negotiable receipts when the grade is omitted therefrom.

The amendment to Section 30 enlarges very materially the scope of offenses punishable under the Act and also increases the severity of the penalties which may be imposed for violations of the Act. It also provides for punishing anyone who shall draw a false sample or who shall wilfully mutilate and falsely represent a sample drawn under the Act, or who shall classify, grade or weigh fraudulently any agricultural products covered by the Act.

of similar reports under their respective jurisdictions. That under the provision of such reports is distributed. The United States Department of Agriculture is authorized to make such reports. (Page 12)

AND TO HAVE RECEIVED BY THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, APPROVED FEBRUARY 11, 1918. (Page 13)

This act amends the United States Department of Agriculture, in the following manner: Section 1. The United States Department of Agriculture is authorized to make such reports. (Page 14)

Section 2. The United States Department of Agriculture is authorized to make such reports. (Page 15)

Section 3. The United States Department of Agriculture is authorized to make such reports. (Page 16)

Section 4. The United States Department of Agriculture is authorized to make such reports. (Page 17)

Section 5. The United States Department of Agriculture is authorized to make such reports. (Page 18)

Sections 12, 19, and 29 are amended to make them harmonize with the amendments to Sections 2 and 11.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE SECRETARY.

Dear Mr. Secretary:

Mr. Bain has suggested that I submit a tentative list of men who should serve on a committee to consider reclassification matters in the Department. The men who have been actively identified with this work in the past and who have therefore historical knowledge of the reclassification movement, as well as an intimate working knowledge of the intricacies of its application to the different Bureaus, should in my opinion be called upon to continue the service. Dr. W. W. Stockberger, Dr. H. A. Edson, Dr. J. J. Skinner, and Col. W. B. Greeley are the men in the Department who have this knowledge, and as they were selected in the first place partially for their knowledge of governmental activities, they seem to me particularly well qualified to represent the different phases of the Department's work. Dr. Skinner has been long and intimately connected with one of the large regulatory features; Col. Greeley thoroughly understands one of the largest of the services of the Department; while Dr. Stockberger and Dr. Edson represent different phases of research activity in which the major problems of the reclassification will be found. I would suggest that Dr. Stockberger be made Chairman of the Committee. His long familiarity with the work and exceptional organizing ability make him the most available man for Chairman if we recognize that Col. Greeley would probably be too busy to take the active leadership in this work.

I would suggest that this be made a permanent committee with continuing functions, as the reclassification law will undoubtedly be revised from time to time and new problems will be arising continually. As the problems of reclassification will be largely scientific, I suggest that the committee be attached to the Office of the Director of Scientific Work and that Mr. Jump be associated in all considerations of the clerical positions.

Sincerely yours,

EW Ball

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY
WASHINGTON

May 10, 1923.

Dr. W. W. Stockberger,
Bureau of Plant Industry.

Dear Dr. Stockberger:

I talked with the Secretary this morning and outlined to him briefly the plans you have for conducting the work as Department Classification Officer, as indicated by the memorandum you left with me, and they are satisfactory to him. Here is a draft of the proposed memorandum to be issued. I have a feeling somehow that it is not exactly what ought to be said, but I have been so tied up with other matters that I have not had time to clarify my thoughts on this subject. I wonder now if you, having the whole subject so intimately at heart, will not take it and go over it carefully and without any hesitation whatever make such changes as you believe ought to be there, secure Dr. W. A. Taylor's concurrence of it, inasmuch as it is the final step toward B. P. I. losing your services for a while, and then let me have it back in the form in which you feel it should go out?

Perhaps at the end of it we should add a sentence to the effect that Dr. Edison has been detailed to the Office of the Board. That would be an item of interest to the Department, and being publicly announced in this way probably would be an indication to Dr. Edison himself that the work he is going to do up there is regarded by the Department as a very important service. Above all, be perfectly frank in changing the proposed memorandum. I hope we can get it out without any further delay, as I feel that the Department people ought to know as soon as possible what is to be done. If you and Mr. Reese have decided on a place in which to work perhaps you would want to indicate that in the memorandum for the guidance of the Department people, although, of course, that is not essential and I do not think should delay the memorandum.

The more I think about the matter the more convinced I am that we are very fortunate to be able to have it handled by you in this way, and I assure you you will find everyone here willing to cooperate to the very limit in this important undertaking.

Sincerely yours,

Administrative Assistant.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. W. A. JUMP.

Dear Mr. Jump:

I am returning herewith the draft of the proposed Memorandum in regard to the classification work of the Department. I feel that the ground is very satisfactorily covered, and this opinion is concurred in by Dr. Taylor. In the text of the draft I have indicated one or two minor changes and suggest, with your approval, the following additions:

Add to Paragraph 1 --"Temporarily, the classification officer, and his staff, will occupy quarters on the third floor, center, of the main building."

New Paragraph No. 7 --"Dr. H. A. Edson of the Bureau of Plant Industry has been detailed to the Personnel ~~of the~~ Classification Board to assist in the classification of Federal employees in the District of Columbia, with special reference to the personnel of the Department of Agriculture. After the completion of the tentative allocation, now being expedited, he will be occupied with the development of the detailed class specifications, under which the final allocation will be made."

Yours very truly,

W. W. Stockburger

Physiologist in Charge of Drug,
Poisonous and Oil Plant Investigations.

A PROPOSED WORK PROGRAM FOR THE
CLASSIFICATION OFFICER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE .

1. The Personnel Classification Board has directed the Department of Agriculture to make a survey of its field service and to make a preliminary survey and tentative allocation of the service entirely situated in the District of Columbia, as of May 15, 1923.

2. A questionnaire has been designed, to be filled out for each regular position at every field office or station; and instructions have been issued which take take of the handling of these questionnaires in the field up to the point of their return to the proper departmental offices in Washington. Forms are being prepared for use in the tentative survey of the personnel in Washington, and the information required by these forms is to be compiled largely from the "Job Classification Sheets" submitted to the Bureau of Efficiency in compliance with the provisions of Executive Order No. 3566, dated October 24, 1921.

3. The "job descriptions" served as a basis for the allocation of the personnel to the appropriate grades established by the Bureau of Efficiency, and were delivered direct to that Bureau by each separate Bureau in this Department without coordination or revision for the purpose of securing uniformity in statement and proper equivalence in the allocation of positions common to two or more bureaus and correcting inequalities between services or responsibilities therein.

4. For the accomplishment of the general coordination and equalization of the classification of the personnel of the Department of Agriculture the following organization under the direction of the Department Classification Officer is proposed:

CLASSIFICATION OFFICER

Secretary
Clerical force

Advisory Council

Service Staff

Professional Service
Subprofessional Service
Clerical, Fiscal and Administrative Service
Custodial Service
Clerical-Mechanical Service

Bureau Classification Committees

5. If this arrangement should be adopted, the detailed steps involved would be substantially as follows:

(a) The Classification Officer for the Department would act (1) as general coordinator of all the classification work done in the separate bureaus of the Department, and (2) as Chairman of a Departmental Classification Committee, to be composed of the Classification Officers of all the Bureaus.

(b) The Advisory Council would be an informal group of the principal officials of the Department including the Administrative Assistant to the Secretary and the Director of Scientific Work, with whom the Classification Officer would advise with respect to important policies.

(c) The Service Staff would be comprised of employees detailed from the various bureaus and selected by reason of special knowledge, ability or experience with the personnel of the service for which they were selected.

(d) Each chief of bureau would be requested to designate a Bureau Classification Officer and two assistants to coordinate and standardize the classification and allocation of positions within the bureau.

THE SECRETARY OF THE ARMY
WASHINGTON, D. C.

The following information was received from the Director of the Bureau of Military Affairs on the subject of the proposed amendment to the Army Regulations.

It is requested that you advise the Director of the Bureau of Military Affairs of the results of your review of the proposed amendment to the Army Regulations.
The proposed amendment is being submitted to the Secretary of the Army for his consideration.

Very respectfully,
The Secretary of the Army

The several Bureau Classification Officers would constitute a committee to meet at the call of the Department Classification Officer who would also act as chairman.

General Procedure

6. The organization above outlined would operate as follows:

(a) In each bureau the field questionnaires and the job description sheets would be referred to the Bureau Classification Officer and his assistants. The questionnaires would be thoroughly reviewed by the bureau officers and if necessary revised so as to be fairly comparable as to (1) statement of duties, (2) qualifications required by incumbents, and (3) (in case of the field service) the compensation which ought to be paid. In the case of the Washington personnel the tentative allocations would also be reviewed and titles of incumbents standardized. The field questionnaires and the job descriptions would then be submitted to and approved (after such modification as might be necessary) by the chief of the bureau after which they would be forwarded to the Departmental Classification Officer.

(b) The Departmental Classification Officer would then review the questionnaires and job descriptions submitted by the several bureaus in the department, and revise them for the purpose of securing uniformity of statement for similar classes of positions, and for the further purpose of presenting job statements in standard terminology and form consistent for the entire department. The tentative allocations of positions to services and grades would also be revised for the purpose of securing so far as possible equivalent allocation in the entire department for equivalent lines of work.

7. The programme outlined thus far covers only the two preliminary steps taken by the Personnel Classification Board. The final step to be taken by the Board prior to the establishment of the classification as of July 1, 1924, is the review and approval of the final allocation of departmental positions to grades. This will amount to (a) the promulgation of rules and regulations to govern allocation, including the publication of such class or illustrative specifications as may be considered necessary, supplements to the grade specifications carried in the Act itself, and (b) the actual review and revision of allocations.

The work of prescribing and defining classes within salary grades, of preparing statements of qualifications and of establishing titles is of major importance in connection with the development and perfection of the classification system for the purpose of improving and standardizing methods of personnel selection. This is a most difficult and complicated task, and one which must be handled with great caution and deliberation if it is to be performed satisfactorily. Since the Personnel Board will undoubtedly develop the class specifications from the job descriptions filed with the Board both in connection with the tentative allocation of positions for estimate purposes (as of May 15, 1923), and in connection with the authoritative allocation as of July 1, 1924, it will be necessary for the Department from time to time to alter and amend, to correct and improve both the allocations and the statements for classes of positions as opportunity offers, not only before but also after the date when the Act becomes effective.

OFFICE OF THE SOLICITOR
WASHINGTON, D. C.

May 26, 1923.

Dear Mr. Jump:

With regard to the standard form of lease adopted by the Interdepartmental Board of Contracts and Adjustments:

As to the legal phase, the difference between the new form and the one previously used in this Department is largely a matter of phraseology and was approved by this office.

As to substance, the most salient departure from the old lease is the omission of the termination clause. I was designated by the Chairman of the Board to prepare and submit to the Board a new form of lease for standardization which, after some amendments and additions, was adopted by the Board. I was, in the first instance, and am now, personally in favor of the elimination of the termination clause as being unfair to the lessor but before the matter was finally settled in the Board I submitted the matter to the various bureaus and with but one or two exceptions they opposed the elimination of the clause. My recollection is that the Board, in the first instance, voted against the elimination of the clause but reversed itself at a subsequent meeting. I informed the Board that, until the Secretary of Agriculture had finally passed upon the question, the termination clause would be inserted in our leases if requested by the bureaus, and this has been done. I further suggested to Major Cushing, the Assistant Chairman of the Board, that he officially notify the Secretary of Agriculture, as well as the other Secretaries, of the action of the Board, after which, in the preparation of leases in this Department, we would be guided, of course, by the determination of the Secretary.

Other variations, as to substance, worthy of note are:

(1) The insertion of a clause denying the right of the Government to assign the lease. I do not believe, however, inasmuch as the right to sublet to a "desirable tenant" is provided, that the non-assignability of the lease will work any practicable hardship.

(2) The insertion of a clause to the effect that the landlord shall not be obligated to make repairs where the damage necessitating such repairs arose from the act of the negligence of the Government's employees.

I attach for your information three letters from the bureaus commenting on the termination clause. The other bureaus informed me verbally of their objection.

Very truly yours,

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. CARR

Dear Mr. Carr:

The Forest Service has at no time felt that the inclusion of the 30-day termination notice had a tendency to increase the rental charge of property covered by leases containing this clause. I am sure that it would be decidedly to the disadvantage of the Forest Service should this clause be omitted from all leases. No lease is entered into by the Forest Service until very careful consideration has been given as to its absolute necessity and because of this the lessors have not had their property thrown back on their hands through early termination of lease. Nevertheless changing conditions not infrequently make it desirable from a business standpoint that an existing lease be terminated before the expiration of the 12-month period, and it would be decidedly to our disadvantage not to have this privilege of termination. On the basis of the foregoing I think it desirable that the 30-day termination clause be included.

Should for certain local reasons the presence of this 30-day notice serve to cause an increase in rent such situation might readily be met by the omission of such clause. Take for instance the Atlantic Building, up until July 1 the Department had a 30-day notice clause in the contract. However the new contract in effect July 1 has a 3-months notice. Similar conditions could be met by similar modification as circumstances warrant.

Very sincerely yours,

Acting Forester.

Mr. J. L. Carr,

Dear Mr. Carr:

Referring to your letter of September 21, we believe that the thirty day cancellation clause could well be eliminated from the standard form of lease to be used by the various Departments. Undoubtedly this limitation is a factor in determining the amount of rentals. The larger portion of our leases, however, are with the individuals and associations alike interested with us in the results of the investigative work and, accordingly, the rental usually is nominal.

Very truly yours,

Chief of Bureau.

Referring to your letter of September 21, we believe that the thirty day cancellation clause could well be eliminated from the contract. It is our opinion that the elimination of this clause would be a factor in determining the amount of rentals. The larger portion of our losses, however, are with the individuals and associations alike interested with us in the results of the investigative work and, accordingly, the rental usually is no less.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. CARR, SOLICITOR'S OFFICE:

Dear Mr. Carr:

Reference is made to your memorandum of September 21 stating that the Interdepartmental Board of Contracts and Adjustments is preparing a standard form of lease to be used by the various departments of the Government from which will be omitted the clause giving the Government the right to terminate the lease upon thirty days notice. You state that the reason for omitting this clause is that it was believed by the Committee that such a clause has a tendency to increase the rental to be paid by the Government. You ask for an expression of opinion upon this matter.

The clause in the lease form being used by this Department giving the Government the right to terminate the lease upon thirty days notice has, I believe, proved beneficial to this Bureau in several instances. For instance, it was found advisable, and in some cases necessary, to change the location of some of the field offices of the Bureau, and in such cases it was an easy matter to give the specified thirty days notice and make the contemplated shift. In this connection I might mention that it was determined advisable to do away with the District office at Missoula, Montana, and have that State added to the District with headquarters in Portland, Oregon. The District Office at Missoula at the time was occupying office space at an annual rental of $3600 which was terminated under the thirty day clause and other space secured at an annual rental of $1920 to accommodate the reduced force which is being retained in Missoula for the purpose of handling work in that State under the District office of Portland. There have been a number of instances that might be mentioned where shifts of office space to the advantage of the Government in the matter of annual rentals has been made possible by the thirty day clause at an earlier date than otherwise would have been possible. I do not know, however, whether the inclusion of this clause has increased the rental rate which the Government has paid, but my impression is that it has not. I will state that in a few instances the landlords have insisted that they be given a similar right, and we have done that in some instances. In other instances where the landlords insisted the 30 day provision has been eliminated.

Very truly yours,

Member, Departmental Board of Contracts & Adjustments.

R. M. REESE,
TO THE ~~Chief Clerk~~ ^{Chief Clerk} DEPARTMENTS AND ESTABLISHMENTS:

1. Without limiting in any manner the jurisdiction or authority of heads of executive departments and independent establishments over the subject matter of Government contracts, as the same is now defined by law, but for the purpose of standardizing contract forms, securing the adoption of uniform policies as regards construction work and uniform practices of interpretation and negotiations both preceding and following the actual execution of such contracts; there is hereby established in the Office of the Chief Coordinator, General Supply, a board to be known as the Interdepartmental Board of Contracts and Adjustments, the members and functions of which Board shall be as follows:

2. The head of each executive department, including the Department of Justice, shall organize a department board made up of one representative of each bureau having the independent right to enter into contracts on behalf of the United States. Such department board shall recommend policies to control in the standardization of contracts within such department. They shall choose from their number a chairman and any other necessary officers.

3. The chairmen of the several department boards, together with a representative designated by the head of any independent establishment now authorized by law to enter into important contracts, and the Chief Coordinator, General Supply, shall constitute the Interdepartmental Board of Contracts and Adjustments, and shall serve without additional compensation.

4. This Board shall be presided over by a chairman who shall be the representative of the Secretary of the Treasury. The chairman shall, upon being advised of the complete membership, call the members of the Board together for purposes of organization. The Board shall adopt such by-laws and appoint such committees and subcommittees as may be deemed advisable and necessary to accomplish the end sought.

5. The functions of this Board shall be:

First, to standardize in general, wherever possible, the forms and methods of contract letting to the end that a uniform policy on the part of the Government may control the making of such contracts, and with a further view to such changes in the form thereof as will tend to enlist the interest of the contractor on behalf of economy and promptness of execution, and eliminate those uncertainties of construction and hazards to be assumed by the contractor which have hitherto operated to increase the cost of Government work and supplies.

Second, to recommend general policies in the settlement of outstanding obligations arising out of contracts of the United States, such as methods of determining and enforcing damages, of settling disputes as to questions of fact, and of determining the final compensation of contractors.

Third, in an advisory capacity and when requested by the head of any department or establishment, or his representative upon the Board;

(a) To review and revise important contracts and agreements made or about to be made on behalf of the United States.

(b) To advise officers authorized to contract and operating under contract as to the proper interpretation of contracts in process of execution.

(c) To assist in the negotiation of important contracts and agreements relating to personal services, supplies, or construction work.

6. The chairman of the Board is charged with the responsibility for the efficient working thereof and for its development along the practical lines above indicated, and in such other ways as may become apparent after full study of the situation by the Board or any committee thereof. After a full discussion of any question by the Board and a full opportunity to the members to be heard thereon, the decision of the chairman will be final as to the action to be taken or the policy to be pursued. But any member may appeal therefrom to the head of his department or establishment, who shall have final authority in the matter. The chairman of the Board may detail an assistant to sit with the Board to represent him in matters of routine.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY
WASHINGTON

May 28, 1923.

Mr. P. L. Gladmon,

Chief Personnel Officer.

Dear Mr. Gladmon:

The Secretary directs that the necessary papers be issued covering the transfer from the Forest Service to the Office of the Secretary as Director of Purchases and Sales of Paul D. Kelleter at $4,500, effective July 1, 1923. His salary for the present should be paid from the miscellaneous roll of the Office of the Secretary.

Mr. Kelleter has been employed in the Forest Service since July 1, 1903, and at different times has been Forest Assistant, Forest Supervisor, Forest Examiner, and at present has the title of Forest Inspector. During recent years he has been principal aid to the Assistant Forester in charge of operation, handling especially the business and financial management of the Service, fire protection, permanent improvement work, etc. He has had charge of the purchasing system in the Forest Service, which is very complex and has very peculiar requirements, involving the supplying of many field stations, field parties, etc. In addition to being a graduate of a business school, he is a graduate of Washington University, St. Louis, with the degree A. B., and of the Yale Forest School, with the degree M. F.

After a careful survey of all of the people in the Department who might be assigned the duty of coordinating and supervising the purchasing and sales work under the provisions of the Executive Order of July 27, 1921 (Budget Bureau Circular No. 15), Mr. Kelleter seems by far to be the best fitted man for this work. His transfer is approved by the Secretary in accordance with the terms of a memorandum which I have written today to Mr. Sherman, a copy of which is attached, and should be made a matter of record, since it contains certain provisions dealing with the future. The transfer of Mr. Kelleter and his designation as Director of Purchases and Sales for the Department constitutes, of course, a decided change in his duties and his assignment to work involving much greater responsibility than the position he has held heretofore.

Sincerely yours,

(sgd) W. J. Jump

 - Bureau special correspondents

The schedules sent in by the foregoing lists of crop reporters will be tabulated in the Tabulating and Computing Section of the Division of Crop and Live Stock Estimates of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, and must be carefully safeguarded from the time they are received until the crop report is issued.

In order to prevent the possibility of collusion among any of the employees engaged in the tabulation of these schedules, or of any employee drawing deductions from the results shown for any State or States tabulated by him, the following method shall be employed in dealing with speculative crops in States of relatively large production:

- (a) After the schedules have been tabulated on the sheets for the respective States, the figures thereon shall be added for each crop represented, so as to show a total for only a portion of the sheet, omitting a group of important counties. As rapidly as such totals are made the sheets shall be handed to the official in charge of the division.

(b) The official in charge will then number the tabulation sheets at the top (where the names of the States to which they relate are written) and at the bottom (where there is nothing to indicate the States to which they relate), using the same number at both the top and the bottom of the sheet. He will then place these numbers on a separate sheet on his desk, without making any memorandum to show the States to which they pertain, but for the purpose of avoiding the use of the same number on sheets relating to different States.

(c) The official in charge shall then cut the tabulation sheets into two parts, so that the partial total will be at the top of the lower part and so that no names of counties will appear thereon. In order to do this, it will be necessary to cut the sheet so that the names of all counties will be on the upper part of the sheet, although the figures for some of the counties will of course appear on the lower part..

(d) He shall immediately deliver the upper part, upon which the name of the State is written to the Statistician in Charge of the Division of Crop and Live Stock Estimates, of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

(e) The official in charge shall then issue the lower parts of the tabulation sheets to other clerks than those by whom they were tabulated and partially added, who will make the final additions and compute the average thereon. As rapidly as they are completed by the clerks, the official in charge will deliver them to the Statistician in Charge of the Division, who will assign the figures to the proper States to which they pertain by means of the numbers placed on the top and at the bottom of the sheets before they were cut in two.

(f) The tabulation of all schedules relating to cotton in Texas and Georgia will be delivered by the official in charge of the Tabulating and Computing Section, as soon as completed, to the Secretary or Acting Secretary of Agriculture, who will keep said sheets in a locked receptacle until the morning of the date upon which the Bureau's cotton report is issued, when they will be delivered to the Chairman of the Crop Reporting Board by the Secretary, or Acting Secretary, or Administrative Assistant to the Secretary.

(4) Reports of Agricultural Statisticians in the Field.

(a) Agricultural Statisticians in the field shall inclose their reports relating to what are known as speculative crops in separate envelopes from the reports on other (non-speculative) crops. The envelopes containing the first class of reports shall be addressed in red ink, either printed or written, to the Secretary of Agriculture, and shall have the inscription (also in red ink) "Special A", prominently marked thereon.

(b) Agricultural Statisticians shall forward their regular monthly reports on non-speculative crops in envelopes addressed to the Secretary of Agriculture in red ink, printed or written, which shall be identified by the inscription "Special B", prominently marked thereon.

(c) In order to prevent access to such reports relating to speculative crops by any person connected with the Bureau of Agricultural Economics prior to the date to which they relate, or the possibility of premature information being derived therefrom, an arrangement with the postal authorities has been made to separate letters addressed in red ink to the Secretary of Agriculture, marked "Special A", or "Special B", from other mail as soon as received in Washington, to deliver the envelopes to the Administrative Assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture, or to his assistant, who shall immediately initial them and mark thereon the date and hour of receipt. The Administrative Assistant, or his Assistant, will immediately place the envelopes marked "Special A", and without breaking the seals thereof, in the locked receptacle in the office of the Secretary, where the envelopes will remain, sealed until the time arrives for their use by the Crop Reporting Board in preparing the crop estimates. The envelopes marked "Special B" will be immediately delivered to the Statistician in Charge of the Division of Crop and Live Stock Estimates for use in preparing estimates regarding the crops to which they relate, in advance of the date on which the Bureau's report is issued.

(d) The key for opening the receptacle in which the sealed reports of the Agricultural Statisticians of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics are kept in the office of the Secretary shall be in the possession of the Administrative Assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture and will be used by him only, or by the Secretary or Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

(e) The reports of Agricultural Statisticians shall not be removed from the receptacle and their seals broken until the morning of the date on which the report is issued, when they will be delivered to the Chairman of the Crop Reporting Board by the Administrative Assistant to the Secretary, or by the Secretary or Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

(f) Reports on prices, being of a non-speculative character, even though they may relate to speculative crops, will in all cases be forwarded in "Special B" envelopes.

(5) Telegraphic reports:

(a) Telegraphic reports of the Agricultural Statisticians of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics regarding cotton and other speculative crops must be addressed to the "Secretary, Agriculture, Washington, D.C.", and begin with the words "Special A". Those relating to non-speculative

(c) Telegraphic reports regarding non-speculative crops addressed to "Crop Reporting Board, Agriculture, Washington", will be delivered immediately to the Statistician in Charge of the Division of Crop and Live Stock Estimates of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, and may be used as received by him in the preparation of reports on non-speculative crops but such reports shall not be published or given out prior to the date fixed in advance for the issuance of the report.

(6) Crop Reporting Board:

(a) The preparation of the crop reports each month will be made by a Crop Reporting Board, composed of a Chairman and a Vice-Chairman, who shall have been nominated by the Chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics and approved by the Secretary of Agriculture, and three or more additional statisticians, whose services will be brought into requisition each crop report day by selection by the Chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, from the statisticians and officials of the Bureau in Washington, and such Agricultural Statisticians of the Bureau in the field, as may be ordered to Washington for that purpose.

(d) While the Crop Reporting Board is in session, all outer doors of the rooms occupied by the Board and its assistants shall be locked and guards stationed at the entrance, and no one shall be allowed to leave these rooms until the release of the report.

1. The first step in the process of the formation of the embryo is the fertilization of the egg by the sperm. This process takes place in the oviduct, where the egg and sperm meet. The sperm penetrates the egg, and the two fuse to form a zygote. The zygote then divides into two cells, which continue to divide and develop into the embryo.

2. The second step in the process is the implantation of the embryo in the uterine wall. The embryo, which is now a blastocyst, travels through the fallopian tube and enters the uterus. It then implants itself in the uterine wall, where it will continue to develop. The implantation process is a critical step in the formation of the embryo, as it determines whether the embryo will survive and develop into a fetus.

3. The third step in the process is the development of the embryo into a fetus. The embryo, which is now a fetus, continues to divide and develop. It grows in size and complexity, and its organs and systems begin to form. The fetus is nourished by the placenta, which is attached to the uterine wall. The fetus remains in the uterus until it is ready to be born.

4. The fourth step in the process is the birth of the fetus. The fetus is born through the birth canal, and it is then cared for by the mother. The birth process is a complex and often painful one, but it is a necessary step in the life of the fetus. The newborn fetus is then cared for by the mother and the medical staff, and it begins its life as a human being.

5. The fifth step in the process is the development of the fetus into a child. The child, which is now a child, continues to grow and develop. It learns to walk, talk, and think, and it begins to interact with the world around it. The child is cared for by the mother and the medical staff, and it is educated in a school. The child's development is a continuous process, and it is influenced by many factors, including genetics, environment, and education.

6. The sixth step in the process is the development of the child into an adult. The adult, which is now an adult, continues to grow and develop. It learns to work, love, and live, and it begins to contribute to society. The adult is cared for by the mother and the medical staff, and it is educated in a school. The adult's development is a continuous process, and it is influenced by many factors, including genetics, environment, and education.

Spencer please see on page 1 of Ball clean up these points

Mr. Jump:

I have read this over and except for the necessity of substituting "Administrative Assistant" for "Private Secretary" throughout, there seem to be only four doubtful points, as follows:

(1) On page 2 in describing the procedure in tabulating the crop reports the memorandum says "the figures thereon shall be added for each crop represented, so as to show a total for only a portion of the sheet, omitting a group of counties at the bottom of the sheet." The next paragraph makes reference to the lower part of the sheet,--"where there is nothing to indicate the States to which they relate." The following paragraph says "the partial total will be at the top of the lower part and * * * no names of counties will appear thereon." I cannot reconcile the last statement with the first two. The first clearly indicates that there will be a group of counties at the bottom of the sheet while the last two say that there will be nothing at the bottom of the sheet to indicate the State or county.

(2) On page 5 the statement is made that the Chief Statistician of the Division of Crop and Live Stock Estimates will be Chairman of the Crop Reporting Board. Is this true since Mr. Murray's resignation?

(3) Section (c) on page 6 says that no communication will be permitted between the rooms occupied by the Crop Reporting Board and its assistants and the remainder of the Bureau. It occurs to me that this may be a little too narrow and should be broadened to include everyone outside the rooms.

(4) The closing paragraph on page 7 refers to the regulations of the Secretary governing the issuance of crop reports. Is this the schedule referred to in Section (1) on page 1? If so, they should be tied up in some way as this closing statement is rather confusing.

If you think that all of these things are worth following up, let me know and I will take them up with the people in B. A. E.

MEMORANDUM NO. _____.

Preparation of the Monthly Crop Reports of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The orders governing the preparation of the monthly crop reports of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, revised to February 16, 1916, are hereby amended to read as follows:

(1) A schedule of dates upon which crop estimates will be issued shall be made up by the Chief or Acting Chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics and submitted to the Secretary of Agriculture for approval and publication on or before January 1 of each year.

(2) Data relating to acreage, condition, yield, or quality of cotton, corn, wheat, and oats shall be termed "speculative", and these crops called "speculative crops." Other data and other crops shall be termed "non-speculative."

(3) The following classes of correspondents will send their reports directly to the Division of Crop and Live Stock Estimates of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics for tabulation:

County crop reporters,
Township crop reporters,
Individual farmers,
Cotton ginner (Census Bureau),
Bureau special correspondents.

The schedules sent in by the foregoing lists of crop reporters will be tabulated in the Tabulating and Computing Section of the Division of Crop and Live Stock Estimates of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, and must be carefully safeguarded from the time they are received until the crop report is issued.

In order to prevent the possibility of collusion among any of the employees engaged in the tabulation of these schedules, or of any employee drawing deductions from the results shown for any State or States tabulated by him, the following method shall be employed in dealing with speculative crops in States of relatively large production:

(a) After the schedules have been tabulated on the sheets for the respective States, the figures thereon shall be added for each crop represented, so as to show a total for only a portion of the sheet, omitting a group of ~~counties at the bottom of the sheet.~~ important As rapidly as such totals are made the sheets shall be handed to the official in charge of the division.

(b) The official in charge will then number the tabulation sheets at the top (where the names of the States to which they relate are written) and at the bottom (where there is nothing to indicate the States to which they relate), using the same number at both the top and the bottom of the sheet. He will then place these numbers on a separate sheet on his desk, without making any memorandum to show the States to which they pertain, but for the purpose of avoiding the use of the same number on sheets relating to different States.

(c) The official in charge shall then cut the tabulation sheets into two parts, so that the partial total will be at the top of the lower part and so that no names of counties will appear thereon. In order to do this,

(d) He shall immediately deliver the upper part, upon which the name of the State is written to the Chief Statistician of the Division of Crop and Live Stock Estimates, of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

It is necessary to cut the sheet so that the names of the counties will be on the upper part of the sheet, and the figures for each of the counties will appear on the lower part.

the two main branches of the system of public health, we must be carefully guided by the fact that the two branches are not entirely independent of each other.

In order to secure the best results in the work of the public health service, it is necessary to have a close co-operation between the two branches.

(a) After the work of the public health service has been completed, the Division of Public Health should be able to have a full knowledge of the work of the public health service. It is necessary to have a close

(e) The official in charge shall then issue the lower parts of the tabulation sheets to other clerks than those by whom they were tabulated and partially added, who will make the final additions and compute the average thereon. As rapidly as they are completed by the clerks, the official in charge will deliver them to the Chief Statistician of the Division, who will assign the figures to the proper States to which they pertain by means of the numbers placed on the top and at the bottom of the sheets before they were cut in two.

(f) The tabulation of all schedules relating to cotton in Texas and Georgia will be delivered by the official in charge of the Tabulating and Computing Section, as soon as completed, to the Secretary or Acting Secretary of Agriculture, who will keep said sheets in a locked receptacle until the morning of the date upon which the Bureau's cotton report is issued, when they will be delivered to the Chairman of the Crop Reporting Board by the Secretary, or Acting Secretary, or ~~Private Secretary~~ to the Secretary.

(4) Reports of Agricultural Statisticians in the Field.

(a) Agricultural Statisticians in the field shall inclose their reports relating to what are known as speculative crops in separate envelopes from the reports on other (non-speculative) crops. The envelopes containing the first class of reports shall be addressed in red ink, either printed or written, to the Secretary of Agriculture, and shall have the inscription (also in red ink) "Special A", prominently marked thereon.

(b) Agricultural Statisticians shall forward their regular monthly reports on non-speculative crops in envelopes addressed to the Secretary of Agriculture in red ink, printed or written, which shall be identified by the inscription "Special B", prominently marked thereon.

prior to the date to which they relate, or the possibility of premature information being derived therefrom, an arrangement with the postal authorities has been made to separate letters addressed in red ink to the Secretary of Agriculture, marked "Special A" or "Special B", from other mail as soon as received in Washington, to deliver the envelopes to the ~~Private Secretary~~ ^{Administrative Assistant} to the Secretary of Agriculture, or to his assistant, who shall immediately initial them and mark thereon the date and hour of receipt. The ~~Private Secretary~~ ^{Administrative Assistant} ~~Secretary~~, or his assistant, will immediately place the envelopes marked "Special A", and without breaking the seals thereof, in the locked receptacle in the office of the Secretary, where the envelopes will remain, sealed until the time arrives for their use by the Crop Reporting Board in preparing the crop estimates. The envelopes marked "Special B" will be immediately delivered to the Chief Statistician of the Division of Crop and Live Stock Estimates for use in preparing estimates regarding the crops to which they relate, in advance of the date on which the Bureau's report is issued.

(d) The key for opening the receptacle in which the sealed reports of the Agricultural Statisticians of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics are kept in the office of the Secretary shall be in the possession of the ~~Private Secretary~~ ^{Administrative Assistant} ~~Secretary~~ to the Secretary of Agriculture and will be used by him only, or by the Secretary or Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

(e) The reports of Agricultural Statisticians shall not be removed from the receptacle and their seals broken until the morning of the date on which the report is issued, when they will be delivered to the Chairman of the Crop Reporting Board by the ~~Private Secretary~~ ^{Address} to the Secretary, or by the Secretary or Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

(f) Reports on prices, being of a non-speculative character, even though they may relate to speculative crops, will in all cases be forwarded in "Special B" envelopes.
